Seeks Site for Federal Building

Future federal construction in this city may include a downtown structure bounded by Nelson Avenue, Brunswick and Winnipeg Street. Federal authorities are interested in acquiring land in this portion of the city, council was informed Monday night.

In particular, the Ottawa authorities asked the city about sale of the present lawn bowling green property. Civic officials told council they had learned this property would form part of an area development to house the income tax office, employment office, Canada Customs, and possibly a sub-post office for pre-sortation of mail. A large area for parking space would also be needed.

Members of council acknowledged they had heard of building plans to be commenced about 1960. But they had not been previously aware of the government's interest in this particular site.

Ald. P. F. Erout said he felt the area immediately south of the present Canadian Legion building might be more suited to the government needs than the bowling green property. Parking space could be provided on Martin Street property, he suggested.

Other members of council said they did not think this area to be sufficiently large to provide both the size of building contemplated and sufficient parking space. There would be possibly scores of cars to be parked with the federal services in one area.

At first diffident about disposing of the bowling green council gradually warmed to the idea, suggesting if the price tag included cost of complete re-establishment of the bowling green in another suitable location, it might be beneficial to both the city and the club.

NEW SITE SUGGESTED

One suggested new site for the bowlers is the former tennis court property on Brunswick Street near Wade Avenue. This would provide sufficient area, council members stated.

Contacted at the bowling green last night during the weekly rink games, executive members of the lawn bowling club stated they had not had time to study the plan for absorption of the present greens and their replacement with new ones. They indicated an early session will be called to discuss the matter.

Those contacted included the president, J. H. Wooper, A. Malkinson, Don Abel, and H. W. Cooper of the executive, as well as senior members of the club.

Views of the older members appeared to be blunt opposition to the idea. But some of the executive and younger members indicated they would not oppose the plan if it could be turned to the benefit of the club as a whole. General view of this group is that it would not be good for the city for them to stand in the way of progress, provided the interests of the club were fully safeguarded.

PRESENT BUILDING INADEQUATE

Advocates New City Location For Armory

Development of the Henry Meyerhoff property at the corner of Main Street and Calgary Avenue as a future armory site and drill-ground area was recommended to city council Monday night by Mayor C. E. Oliver.

His Worship stated he had discussed the matter with officers of the local 9th Reconnaissance (B.C. Dragoons) and they had been enthusiastic about it. Members of council said they had dealt with the previous government regarding establishment of a new armory here, but had been informed it would not be considered at present. However, there had been interest in acquisition of a site.

Ald. P. F. Erout said there had been interest previously in two other sites both near school grounds. He stated District 15 school board had been approached about such a development some time ago.

"What they are interested in is having sufficient ground for a drill area, as well as for a future armory," said Ald. Erout. "They have indicated they would like to use school grounds for this purpose after school hours."

Another factor sought by the government is to have truckage available. This would be the case with the Meyerhoff land, said Ald. P. F. McPherson said there was a way in which the Meyerhoff land could be reached by the railway.

Ald. Erout said this would be necessary for the use of the giant tanks the military wanted to utilize as part of their training and demonstrations.

During the discussion it was stated the present armory building, expropriated a few years ago from the Penticton Gyro Club, was proving inadequate to the needs of the unit. In particular, it has no drill ground, and only a minute space for vehicular storage. Moreover, it is in a growing commercial area limiting possible expansion.

The oldest portion of the armory was originally constructed by the old Penticton Badminton Club, and for many years used by that group until it became virtually defunct. The building was sold to the Gyros prior to World War II. The Gyros spent a great deal of money and considerable volunteer effort in rebuilding the older portion, and later in adding to it.

At the present time maintaining the building is a race against the effects of age, it was stated. Some minor repairs are being carried out on the roof at the present time.

Record Tourist Flow Taxes City Facilities

Penticton's tourist industry continues to boom despite unusually poor weather in the past few weeks.

The Penticton Board of Trade's Tourist Information Bureau reports that some 1,520 visitors have dropped in for information on accommodations, facilities, roads and other matters so far this month.

During July there were a total of 2,700 personal inquiries at the bureau by out-of-town residents visiting in the Peach City. These figures, which the bureau emphasizes are conservative since it isn't always possible to record every inquiry do not include telephone calls from tourists.

The steady influx of tourists is well ahead of last year and has kept hotels, motels, camping areas, trailer parks and tent usually every night for the past two weeks. Many, unable to find accommodation here, have had to go to Okanagan Falls and Summerland.

A number of private homes have been called upon for accommodations in several instances.

Two Errors Appear In Program Booklet

Last-minute alterations in the Peach Festival program booklet resulted in two announcements in the illustrated Festival program, published last week being incorrect.

The tractor rodeo, in the program for 10 a.m. Saturday, will be held Friday afternoon starting at 1:30 p.m. in the fair grounds. And the theatrical display in the program from 11:30 p.m. Saturday will be held Friday night at 8 p.m. in the fair grounds.

Crowning to Mark Thursday Opening

Biggest influx of visitors ever to converge on Penticton at one time is forecast tomorrow when the 10th annual Peach Festival gets underway.

Focal point for thousands of holidayers throughout British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest the festival this year is expected to draw an attendance of at least 20,000. Some estimates run as high as 30,000 or more depending on whether the famed South Okanagan sunshine continues as seems to be promised.

Whatever the total attendance, however, there is little doubt that every hotel, motel, auto court, trailer park, camping ground and tent space in and near the Peach City will be filled to capacity. Much of the accommodation is already taken by those who have made reservations ahead of time.

Considerable demand for extra accommodation is anticipated and the Tourist Information Bureau asks residents who may be able to accommodate some of the visitors, to contact the bureau.

The big celebration which is the drawing card for these visitors, begins tomorrow and ends Saturday night. In these three days the Peach City will host the biggest, liveliest, most colorful festival of its long career as a leading holiday centre.

Climaxing six months of exhaustive community-wide preparations which were given "wrap-up" touches at a meeting of the Festival Association directors last night, the Peach Festival offers thrills and fun galore for everyone.

For the folk dance enthusiast there's the big square dance jamboree held in conjunction with the festival. Advance guard of the 1,600 to 2,000 dancers expected from as far away as California and Winnipeg, has been swinging and swaying every morning this week at street dances in downtown Penticton and every evening at frolics staged in Penticton and Summerland.

The jamboree dances will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights on the huge 20,000 square-foot dance floor laid at King's Park.

LONG-DISTANCE SWIM

An extra thrill drawing the attention of the sports world during the festival is the attempt of Vancouver housewife Ann Meraw to set a new world record for long distance swimming. Providing weather permits Mrs. Meraw is to leave Kelowna this afternoon and swim down Lake Okanagan to Penticton, a distance of 34.5 miles, arriving here tomorrow afternoon.

For lovers of pomp and pageantry there's the queen crowning ceremonies tomorrow evening at which Carol Malmberg, 20-year-old blond beauty, will be crowned Peach Festival Queen Val Vedette X with Beverly Bond and Lauree Lodomez as her princesses. Then too, there's the giant Peach Festival parade at noon, Friday in which bands from Penticton, Summerland, Wenatchee, Vernon and Chilliwack will march in gay procession with some 60 floats.

Of interest to everyone will be the displays and exhibits at the big Rotary Industrial and Agricultural Show occupying all the Memorial Arena and part of the adjoining fair grounds. A variety of industrial and commercial displays, booths arranged by local clubs and some 800-1,000 agricultural and home arts exhibits will constitute both a thrilling preview into modern living and a vivid showcase of Penticton.

MUSIC AND PUPPETS

On the entertainment side there will be a troupe of Hawaiian entertainers appearing on the grounds in top-notch musical offerings. Also on the grounds, John Keogh, famous Toronto tel-

Start Work on Bleacher Seats At Summerland

SUMMERLAND—Headed by George Stoll, work has commenced on erection of bleacher seats above the curling area in Summerland Arena. It is planned to have them finished for use at the Fruit Fair, August 31-September 2.

Volunteer help is being sought to work on the project in the evenings. Since a large part of the rink construction was done voluntarily, no difficulty is expected in this undertaking. The seats will also add to facilities for hockey next fall and for figure skating events.

Milk Bottle Thief Sent to Oakalla

For stealing money from milk bottles left out by residents, a 1-year-old Penticton boy, Peter T. Miller, was sentenced Tuesday in police court to six months definite and nine months indefinite imprisonment in the young offenders' unit, Oakalla.

Another youth, involved in the theft, had his case remanded for several months.

St. Laurent to Stay As Liberal Chieftain

OTTAWA—(UP)—A spokesman for opposition leader Louis St. Laurent said today he intended to remain leader of his party.

The former prime minister met with leading Liberal Party members for the second day of strategy talks and scheduled a press conference for later this afternoon.

A spokesman for his office said Mr. St. Laurent had no announcement to make, but would meet parliamentary correspondents and answer any of their questions.

As to his personal future, the spokesman said that Mr. St. Laurent was still Liberal Party leader, and would be opposition leader in the new Commons when it meets this fall.

"Mr. St. Laurent intends to fulfill his role," the spokesman said.

Liberal members of parliament, senators and leading national federation officials opened their discussions yesterday at federation headquarters. It was reported that the first session was concerned primarily with feeling out the group especially as far as the leadership was concerned.

St. Laurent is expected to study party opinion very closely before making a decision on his future plans. He has displayed a desire to lead the Liberals in opposition in the fall session of parliament and possibly into the next general election, but current feeling is that he will not hold the leadership reins that long.

Current speculation is that St. Laurent will face Prime Minister John Diefenbaker during the fall session, but will then step down sometime this winter. Such a move would allow his successor to lead the party in the winter session of parliament, before tackling the hustings, presumably next June.

Another important question in regard to the leadership is to be answered at the meeting is to elect the new chieftain to be chosen. Two choices are open to the party: either a national convention or a full party caucus.

It is possible that the present possible moves at the Union Wag Agreement Will Not Be Reopened

There will be no re-opening of the wage agreement between the city and its civic employees union. A letter from the B.C. Labour Relations Board signed by B. H. E. Gault, its chief executive officer, notified council Monday of this ruling.

The letter to council declared the application of Local 308 to terminate its agreement "cannot be granted."

The union had applied to council seeking re-opening of the agreement on the basis of the rise in the cost of living index. Council replied that it had signed a three-year agreement early in 1954 in good faith and expected the union to live up to its terms.

As the union was not satisfied and felt the upswing in prices had given it legitimate grounds for seeking an increased level of pay for members of the local, it applied to the labour relations board to obtain action.

The letter received concludes that the present possible moves at the

Penticton Becomes the Happiest City in Canada

In this age of lavish adjectives we tend to become more than a little suspicious when claims are laid that "this year's show is the greatest ever."

We can hardly blame strangers when they lift a quizzical eyebrow and doubt our enthusiasm over the Peach Festival. Our claims, unable to out-do the lavish phraseology of ten thousand Hollywood advertisements, look a little pale and ambiguous. But they have this great advantage over the slick words of the professional publicity man: they are true.

This year's festival, for all the cynical smiles, is the biggest and, weather permitting, will be the best in the history of Penticton.

The industry of the committee organizing the event since the final day of the 1956 festival never ceases to amaze us. We feel quite sure that the many thousands of visitors flocking to Penticton between today and the weekend, plus 95 per cent of the resident population, will fail to realize what tremendous efforts have been made by the few to say "Welcome" in true Okanagan fashion.

Proof of the growing popularity of this Peach Festival can be obtained by phoning any hotel or motel in the city and trying to get a room for the night. Since the beginning of the week the "no vacancy" sign has been up.

Penticton is not the only city to benefit from such a flood of tourists, for the lack of accommodation in the city means that visitors move to outlying districts commuting short distances between their lodgings and festival activities.

All this adds up to much more than just a warm time of laughter. Cash registers throughout the Okanagan will jingle merry tunes as a result of Penticton's "greatest ever" annual event.

Far be it from us to suggest that money be the prime consideration in this or any other festival, but we are anxious to see the men and women who have worked so hard and long, recognized as more than organizers of a three day party.

All the nervous strain which is part and parcel of such lengthy and detailed preparations comes to a head Thursday evening. From that point and for the following two days festival workers will go through a period of acute anxiety, wondering if their effort has been worth while.

You can help them realize it by mentioning your appreciation of their efforts whether you be merchant, resident or just a visitor. Whatever our criticisms of the festival might be we can rest assured that Penticton and the Okanagan wouldn't be the same without it.

It is the biggest, the greatest, the most spectacular celebration ever. All it needs to send it towering above all other happy times is your co-operation.

Get out on the streets, down to the midway and the many exhibitions. Watch the Queen crowned and ten your feet to the sassy dancers' rhythm.

This is our festival. It's peach time and this is Penticton, for the next three days the happiest, warmest, friendliest place in Canada.

Here's Wishing Ann Meraw Luck

Whatever the outcome of Mrs. Meraw's swim throughout the coming long night and the wearying hours of Thursday morning, we wish to congratulate her on her courage.

Defeated last year after close to a full day of buffeting by wind and water, she immediately commenced training for this year's attempt.

Some will ask why a woman should want to swim from Kelowna to Penticton just as some asked the climber why he wanted to climb Everest. The mountaineer's reply was: "Because it's there." Mrs. Meraw needs no other reason.

One man tries to crack a speed limit on land, another by air, another by water. One man tries to swim the Straits of Juan de Fuca while a woman tries to swim from Kelowna to Penticton.

Some seek to fly higher than others, some to descend deeper into the ocean than man has ever gone before.

We think all such adventures crazy until we read of their success—and then we thrill with the rest of the world.

Roger Bannister breaking the four minute mile barrier, Marilyn Bell crossing Lake Ontario the English Channel or the Straits. A pilot travelling faster than the speed of sound. We thrill to them all because we are part of the human race and our pride swells when we hear of conquest by man however small that victory may be.

Today, tonight and tomorrow Ann Meraw will be challenging the elements on one of the toughest swims in the world. We hope she makes it, for such a triumph is the only just reward for her courage in trying again.

NEW BOOKS

Nazi War Hero's Escapes Are Stranger Than Fiction

By United Press

Franz Von Weira was a war hero, a dashing Luftwaffe pilot, a baron. He apparently was a first-grade liar. But above all, he was an artist of wartime escapes, and his exploits in eluding captivity across five nations until he got home, must rank among the war's most daring adventures.

Von Weira was shot down over England in September, 1940. Within a month he had escaped and nearly got away. Back in a new prison camp, he was free again in December and almost got away in a new model Hurricane fighter from a Royal Air Force base, he was in the cockpit trying to start it when halted.

Shipped to Canada and an escape-proof prisoner-of-war centre, Von Weira did it again. This time he leaped from a train, floated across the St. Lawrence river and claimed sanctuary in the neutral United States. A few months later he was in Mexico, then Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Africa, Spain and Italy to complete his fantastic trip back to Berlin.

Everything Von Weira did sounds stranger than fiction. But it was all true and makes top-notch reading in The One That Got Away, by Kendal Burt and James Leason (Random House).

The recent turmoil in the Middle East has provided a fertile source of literature but for the most part the emphasis has been on fact rather than fiction.

P. H. Newby, a Briton who taught English in Cairo during and just after World War II, has departed from the pattern with Revolution and Rome, (Knopf), a novel describing the effect of Egypt's 1952 revolution on a group of people assembled in chance in Alexandria.

Newby's principal character is Elaine Brent, a London newspaperman who arrived in the big Egyptian port on a commercial mission. Trouble was brewing in Cairo. With the help of Tim Blanes a shipboard acquaintance, and his brother Eric, who had married into a family of Greek importers, she managed to get ashore to cover the story without a visa or any of the other customary formalities. Her unorthodox arrival, intercepted by Egyptian Lt. Mahmoud Yehia, touched off a chain of official and romantic complications that reached clear back to London.

Newby unravels his complicated plot with a deadpan earnestness that conveys complete conviction to the reader—and indeed, there is nothing he describes that might not have happened. Some of it probably did.

It is only when one stops to consider that Newby's comic intentions become apparent. He has interwoven Arabic officialdom with British pomposity and puckishness to provide another book that confirms him as one of Britain's more promising contemporary comic authors.

Newby's yarns are always exciting and his latest, On the Beach (Morrow), is no exception. Besides, this one provokes considerable reflection. Some years ago in his novel Slide Rule, there was a plane crash caused by metal fatigue. Not long after its publication, British Comets began to fall from the skies. The cause, determined after months of laborious research, was metal fatigue.

If Shute is still forecasting accurately, On the Beach may be the first textbook of manners and morals of the last days of a doomed people who know they will die.

This is a powerfully moving story told with admirable restraint. One can only hope that the situation it depicts will remain always in the realm of fiction.

"I Never Want to See Eiger Again; It Almost Killed Me"

Editor's note: The only survivor among the four men who tried to scale the "wall of death" on Switzerland's Eiger mountain, told the United Press of his harrowing experience and dramatic rescue from a hospital bed. His story follows.

By CLAUDIA CORTI
As Told To United Press
INTERLAKEN, Switzerland.—(UPI)—I never want to see the Eiger north wall again. It was a wall of death for my friend Longhi and for two German climbers we met by chance. It almost killed me.

Although I am dictating this from a hospital bed in Interlaaken, I won't say that I'm through with climbing. As far back as I can remember I have loved the mountains. But now I have had enough—for the time being.

I am a chauffeur by trade from Lecco, in Como Province. I have lived near the mountains all my 29 years.

My biggest wish always was to scale the north wall of Eiger. I think I was well prepared to try.

My partner, Stefano Longhi, and I reached the foot of the Eiger north wall Aug. 2 and made some sketches. We decided to make our ascent the following day.

We started at 4 a.m. After a full 15 hours of climbing we noticed that we were on the wrong route and decided to bivouac.

On Sunday morning, we crossed over to the normal route where we met the two Germans, Guenther Nothdurft and Franz Meier, who had started their ascent that morning.

SIGN LANGUAGE
They were complete strangers to us and we could only converse in sign language as we did not speak each others languages.

They were in quite a predicament, because they had lost their rucksack with the crampons (sharp climbing irons) and other equipment and did not have the material to continue the climb alone.

As we had enough equipment for four, we joined forces and I led the group. We were roped together. Longhi brought up the rear.

A snowstorm in the afternoon hampered us. We made a bivouac for the night and started again at 4:30 the next morning.

Monday night, our camp was so cramped we had to stand up and rest that way. We could not lie down to sleep.

Our black day was Friday. My friend Longhi slipped and slid several hundred feet down the wall shortly after 3:30 a.m. I wanted to save him but it was impossible.

EXHAUSTED
He was 125 feet down and the Germans were much too exhausted to offer any aid.

I lowered all our food, pills and most of the bivouac equipment to Longhi and secured his ropes to the rock wall to stop him from falling off the ledge where he had found a foothold.

The food would have enabled him to hold out for three or four days. I expected to reach the top of the wall that night and fetch help.

Together with the Germans I continued my ascent. Some 450 feet further up a falling stone hit me on the head. I was forced to rest and remained behind at the spot I had reached. The two Germans continued climbing to the top.

Awards For Osoyoos and Penticton Girls

Miss Ann Clemens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Clemens, Osoyoos, and Miss Marcia Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rowland, Penticton, are the winners of $25 scholarships according to an announcement made this morning by the donors, the UBC Alumni Association.

Miss Clemens, 18, received all her education in Osoyoos and Oliver graduating this spring from Southern Okanagan High School at Oliver. She will attend UBC this fall to study Home Economics.

Miss Rowland, also 18, who has had all her schooling in this city and matriculated in June, will also enter UBC this fall.

The scholarships are two of 12 granted this year by the university's alumni association, and are awarded for academic attainment and in token of participation in general school activities.

Horticultural Show To Coincide With Fair at Summerland

SUMMERLAND—As an added attraction at Summerland's Fruit Fair, Labor Day weekend, the Horticultural Society is staging its 32nd annual flower show in the arena Aug. 31, a week later than originally planned.

At the same time the board of trade is running a competitive fruit, vegetable and poultry products exhibition thus receiving a show that was always a fall event some years ago.

Some flower growers are afraid that gladioli may be past their best at this later date, but every effort is being made to make this show one of the most effective.

No charge will be made for entries and there will be first and second prizes for all classes. Entries from exhibitors outside Summerland will be welcome. Particulars may be obtained from the district horticulturist, A. W. Watt.

TO VICTORIA

Permissions have been given for Fire Chief H. M. Foreman to attend the fire chief's college at Victoria, August 27-30. This is an annual event in which the local officer has taken an active part for many years.

Lack pickaback fashion, he had to keep himself steady on the narrow ledge while he roped us together.

He did it. Up the wall of death we were pulled by others at the top. And I am alive today.

Family Dinner For Couple on Golden Wedding

Two well-known residents of this city, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Olsen, Penticton avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on July 30 at a small family dinner party at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ernie Amos, and five sons, Fairview Road.

Mr. Olsen and his bride of long ago, the former Madge Smuin, are pioneer residents of Penticton, having lived here since 1912. Mr. Olsen retired from the CPR several years ago.

Among the family members present for the happy occasion was Mr. Olsen's sister, Mrs. R. N. Caulfield, of North Vancouver. When she returned to her home at the coast, she was accompanied by her brother and sister-in-law and by the anniversary dinner hosts and their small son, Mayben. The Penticton travellers have now returned to the Okanagan Valley.

Swim Set for Today

TACKLES OKANAGAN LAKE

Ann Meraw, 37-year-old Vancouver housewife, is scheduled to tackle Okanagan Lake today, if the weather is favorable. In an attempt to set a world long distance swim record, she is scheduled to swim the stretch of water between Kelowna and Penticton.

Ann Meraw Seeks World Swim Mark

Ann Meraw seeking to set a world long distance swim record, was scheduled to plunge into the waters of Okanagan Lake today at Kelowna in her second attempt to swim the stretch of water between Kelowna and Penticton. Mrs. Meraw's first attempt last year was unsuccessful.

WEATHER A FACTOR

The 37-year-old Vancouver housewife was slated to start her swim attempt at about 3 p.m. She estimates that it will take her about 24 hours to complete the swim, one of the toughest in the world, if the weather is favorable.

Mrs. Meraw, who will swim without pacer, hopes to complete the night part of the swim while she is still fresh, and hopes to reach Squally Point, the toughest part of the swim, about 2 or 3 a.m.

If the weather is not good today, Mrs. Meraw will wait until tomorrow to begin the swim.

Mrs. Meraw will be accompanied on the swim by her husband, Joe, who is a Vancouver fire marshal.

WILL BE RECORD

Mrs. Meraw swam about 31 miles last year before she became seasick and had to be taken from the water. She had been in the water for slightly more than 25 hours and was only about five miles short of her goal when taken from the water.

The route Mrs. Meraw will take will make the swim 34.5 miles, about two and a half miles longer than the Lake Ontario swim.

Although there are no tides to help or hinder a swimmer the Okanagan Lake swim is considered one of the world's most difficult.

TWO SWIMMERS FAILED

Two other swimmers, Bert Thomas of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Laura Quillette, a Summerland housewife, both failed in attempts to make the swim.

Thomas, conqueror of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, tried twice and lasted less than three hours each time. Mrs. Quillette stayed in the water for 15 hours but covered only a little more than eight miles.

Mrs. Meraw has expressed confidence that she will be successful this time, pointing out that the weather was not ideal for the swim when she made her unsuccessful attempt last year.

BOATS TO STAY CLEAR

Boats going out to meet the swimmer are asked to stay off to the side and not to cross in front of the swimmer or the pilot boat. Fumes from the boats hanging over the water and making breathing difficult for the swimmer.

A portion of the beach will be roped off and if and when Mrs. Meraw completes the swim, she will come ashore at that point.

She has to take three steps up the beach under her own power before officially completing the swim so it is imperative she not interfere with by spectators.

Lake Osoyoos Regatta Set For Aug. 16, 17, 18

Fewer waterboat races and greater emphasis on a water show will mark the eighth annual Lake Osoyoos Power Boat Regatta, Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

The schedule of races will be sharply reduced, especially in the board class, with only 136 cu. in. inboard hydroplanes and 266 inboard hydro class being scheduled.

Races in the outboard class will be utility runabout, C stock hydroplane, D stock hydro, B racing hydro, A racing hydro and C and F racing hydro.

To make up for the reduction in the number of races, water skiing demonstrations have been arranged and swimming races will be staged during the regatta.

The regatta is part of the Apple Valley Racing Circuit and the hundredth anniversary of the planting of the first apple orchard in the Okanagan Valley.

The orchard was planted on the east side of Lake Osoyoos by Hiram F. Smith, who was freight supplies and mail between Hope, B.C. and Marcus, Washington.

The orchard is immediately across from the regatta site. One of the highlights of the regatta will be the performance of the Kelowna Water Ballet under the direction of Miss Joan McGinley.

Norma Schultz will be crowned queen and Linda Swanson and Sandra O'Brien princesses.

Calgary Club Cuts Imports, Hombrews

CALGARY, Alta. — (BUP) — Coach Otis Douglas of the Calgary Stampede cut three American imports and four Canadian players after a practice game last night.

The Stampede beat the Ottawa Rough Riders 26-7 Monday night.

The imports were halfback Jim Harryman, formerly of the University of Washington; tackle end Vince Vidaz, Drexel Institute, and fullback Jerry Baker, University of Mississippi. None had played previously for the Stampede.

Canadians dropped were tackle Alex Macklin, a three-year man with the Calgary club since coming from the University of Toronto; halfback Eddie Simms, Verdun, Que., who was with the Cowboys a year ago; tackle Gerry Fairley, Calgary-born player who was with College of the Pacific in California; and Barry Cyr, youthful graduate of local junior ranks.

Lasorda got his fifth win against six losses in going the distance. The game in Portland may be a bone of contention for some time in the eighth and with the Solons leading 4-3, Frank Carwell hit a homer inside the park with one on, which umpire Bob St. Clair called a grand slam double. However, head umpire Cere Carlucci said every ball is playable in Multnomah Stadium and therefore it is a roundtripper. Solon manager Robby Heath said he would not accept that decision on the game winning blast and plans to file the incident with PCL officials.

Incidentally, Bob Bourkowski also homered for the Beavers in the sixth with one on.

AUSSIE CRACKS SWIM RECORDS

HOUSTON, Tex. (BUP) — Dawn Fraser, 19-year-old Olympic champion from Australia, smashed the American and AAU 110-yard free style records to highlight opening night action in the women's national AAU swimming and diving championships at the Shamrock Hilton hotel pool last night.

Miss Fraser splashed to a 1:08 time to better the standard of 1:05:6 set last year by Nancy Simons of Chicago. A 13-year-old Santa Clara schoolgirl, Chris Von Saltza, also bettered the record with a 1:05:5 performance to finish second.

Paul Jean Myers of Los Angeles in a precision exhibition compiled 436.95 points to win the gold medal in the one-meter springboard diving event. Paula Jean overcame an early lead to edge Irene MacDonald, also of Los Angeles and Hamilton, Ont., who finished second with 429.75.

Joe Louis Raps Seattle Fight

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — (UP) — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis said today the "worst thing ever to happen to boxing" will be the Aug. 22 meeting between heavyweight titleholder Floyd Patterson and Olympic king Pete Rademacher for the "championship of the world."

Louis, who holds a place in the boxing "Hall of Fame," said the bout "is the worst mismatch in boxing history," outdoing Patterson's first title defense against Hurricane Jackson "for bad matching."

Louis, who was the most victorious heavyweight title defender in history, said Patterson was bringing "shame to his crown" by agreeing to fight the 28-year-old Rademacher, who'll be making his professional debut at Seattle.

"I would never have done a thing like that," said the Brown Bomber of the 1940's. "and neither would any other champion in boxing."

"The National Boxing Association should withdraw its recognition of the Washington State Boxing Commission," said Louis.

"The NBA will be a sorry body of men if they recognize that fight."

NO RIGHT TO INTERFERE — Fred Saddy, Chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said the association has "no right to interfere with Washington's state autonomy" in this matter.

Louis said that no matter what the outcome of the fight, Patterson would look ridiculous.

"If he scores a quick victory, everyone will say that's how it was bound to be. And if Rademacher does more than three rounds, people will say Patterson carried him," said Louis. He wouldn't concede that Rademacher might win.

Louis said that no matter how bad Patterson's fight was against Jackson, when he won by a TKO, "he was still fighting an experienced professional."

"I'm not against this just because it's a championship fight, but that amateur kid isn't trained to fight 15 rounds and shouldn't be allowed in the ring for any fight of that distance," he said.

"It's a disgrace to call such a match a fight. I'm glad it's not being televised. The less people seeing it, the better for boxing," he said.

Mantle Whole Show As Yanks Clip Boston

BY UNITED PRESS

Mickey Mantle won the first round in his private batting battle with Ted Williams and wound up knocking out the Red Sox at the same time.

Mantle, bent on retaining his American League batting crown, enjoyed a perfect night last night as he collected three hits in as many times up and drove in all of the Yankees' runs in a 3-2 victory over Boston.

Mickey's performance, which included his 32nd homer and a pair of singles, raised his batting average five points to .384. He still trailed Williams, who boosted his league-leading mark one point to .388 with a single and two walks in four trips.

SULLIVAN VICTIM

Big Frank Sullivan was the victim of Mantle's homer which came in the eighth inning with one on and wiped out Boston's 2-1 lead. The blow not only enabled Mantle to take over the league leadership in runs batted in with a total of 83, but also helped the Yanks retain their 5½ game lead. It marked Mickey's first homer in Boston this season.

Tom Sturdivant scattered seven hits in registering his 10th victory although southpaw Bobby Shantz was called in to nail down the final out.

RIVERA CONNECTS

Jim Rivera drove in five runs with a pair of homers to lead the White Sox to a 10-5 triumph over the Indians; Billy Gardner's second homer of the game with one on in the ninth gave Baltimore a 5-3 victory over Washington, and Kansas City scored a 14-inning 3-2 victory over Detroit in the nightcap of a day-night doubleheader after the Tigers won the opener, 3-1.

The Milwaukee Braves reeled off their eighth straight victory and stretched their National League lead to 6½ games with a 12-4 decision over Cincinnati.

The Giants defeated the Dodgers 4-2; Bob Friend of the Pirates pitched a two-hitter in beating Kamloops 6-0, and the Cubs snapped a three-game losing streak with a 6-2 victory over the Cardinals.

Mounties Slash Seals' Lead

By UNITED PRESS

The Mounties from Vancouver backed another game off San Francisco's dwindling Pacific Coast League lead last night.

And unless the Seals unlimber their big guns, they are going to find themselves in second place before the end of the week what with the Mounties only three games out.

If that weren't enough, San Francisco also has a hot San Diego team to contend with. The Padres are only four games away and might easily catch the Seals on the rebound, dumping them back into third place.

Vancouver moved nearer the top by dumping San Francisco 4-2 while San Diego took its fourth straight from Seattle.

In other loop contests, Los Angeles downed Hollywood 3-1, while Portland came back after four straight losses to whip Sacramento 3-1.

It was the third straight for Vancouver over the leaders, Monte Carlo, who won his 13th of the year against three defeats and Jim Marshall scored his 19th homer for the winners, breaking a 0-0 tie in the sixth.

Owen Friel, plied twice for Vancouver, batting in one run and scoring another himself. The only Seal runs came in the eighth, when Tom Umphlett singled in Harry Malmberg and Ed Sawowski.

In San Diego, the Padres moved off to an early one run lead, adding its last tally in the top of the seventh. In the bottom of that frame, San Diego let go with a three run splurge that put it out in front. They added two more in the eighth to clinch it.

Jim Grant won his sixth consecutive contest in going the distance and in now 12-5. Red Munger, 6-8, was handed the loss.

Los Angeles collected two of its runs — just enough for the win — on homers by Steve Bilko and newcomer Earl Battey. For Bilko, it was his 38th of the season, while it was Battey's second in less than a week of PCL play.

Jim Dabmer homered for Hollywood in the first frame, bringing in the Stars only tally. Penticton Daniels, 14-5, 10-6, while Tom

Interchange of Lots Stalled

Legal difficulties linked to the sale of city property on Pickering Street were unraveled before city council Monday night.

A letter to council from Edgar Dewdney, and a personal appeal by David Gordon of the Newwiche Independent Society, alerted council to the risks of continuing with the protracted sale.

Property in question is a lot owned by one near Van Horne Street north to which access would be virtually impossible. Mr. Hayward had pressed for such access, and in an effort to get out of the dilemma, council had arranged the interchange.

Stating he was acting as legal representative for the Newwiche Society, Mr. Dewdney said in his recent that council had previously agreed to sell the property to the society about a year ago. They had not immediately taken up the offer, but had not relinquished it.

Later they had agreed to the purchase only to be informed council had decided not to sell the land. Then had come news of the interchange deal. To carry this out, the city had to buy the lot from Mr. Hayward and then sell it to the one on Pickering Street. Final reading of the bylaw empowering the sale had been scheduled for Monday night. This has been held up pending study of the problem by the city solicitor, and a clarification of the tangle.

HEARING IS SCHEDULED

Protest Zoning Change Delays

A barrage of protests at delays in making zone changes has led city council to set August 31 as deadline for the present series.

Actual date of the zoning hearing has not been fixed but will be held shortly after the established deadline.

H. Heres, Mrs. M. G. Parker, G. Choukalos and his lawyer, F. C. Christian, appeared before council Monday night in regard to zoning appeals. B. E. Friesen, owner of the Main Spot on Skaha Lake Road, made his request by letter for a speed-up in zoning changes.

Mr. Heres said he had planned to install a drive-in ice cream establishment on his property on Westminster Avenue and Comox Street. Before laying out special flower beds preparatory to it, he said, the bulbs must be planted this fall. Otherwise he would not be able to carry out his plans.

He was told by council that his application for a change of zoning had been recommended by the planning advisory commission, and approved by council. A public hearing and a change in the bylaw is still required, however, for zoning change to become legal. A letter will be sent to Mr. Friesen giving him this information, as his location on Skaha

It's against the law to have a tattoo in Massachusetts under the age of 18.

Lake Road had likewise been approved for change.

A number of other applications are now on file and have either been processed through the planning board or are pending decision. Further applications for rezoning, received by council Monday night will be considered.

Following personal inspection of both the Mr. Choukalos' application for permission to build a motel at the corner of Bennett Avenue and Main Street, and the one from Mrs. Parker for a duplex on Fairview Road, a council committee recommended the applications be referred to a committee of council as a whole before a decision is reached.

Among the newest applications received is one from R. H. Lye, Main Street near Roy Avenue, who wants a residential area rezoned to commercial. A report from the building inspection indicated there is a commercial zone across the street and another one adjacent to it.

Arrangements to complete the list and hold a hearing will require a series of advertisements and must await the return of City Clerk H. G. Andrew from vacation. Tentatively, the hearing may be held during the latter part of September and the bylaw then completed.

MAKING FESTIVAL PARADE FLOATS CAN BE FUN TOO

Members of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary were in a real calypso mood as they worked on their festival parade float

Mrs. L. J. Reese, Mrs. H. B. McGregor, Mrs. W. Rowe and Mrs. R. Slade. Peeking at float in various stages of construction indicates that this year's parade will have a fresh and distinctly original flavor.

Star Cavalcade to Highlight Festival

A thrilling cross-section of show business is the entertainment treat offered to Penticton Peach Festival audiences this weekend at the festival's night show or "Cavalcade of Stars" grandstand show as it is called this year.

Including daring feats of acrobatic and aerial wizardry, satirical impressions, musical comedy, juggling, a knife-throwing act and a sensational 125-foot dive into a flaming tank, the show will be staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the Peach Bowl adjoining the fair grounds.

The thrill-packed program will include nine different acts with accompaniment by a six-piece orchestra. Bob Di Paolo of KBD Enterprises, Calgary, is the producer.

Absent from the Peach Festivals of the two previous years, the Cavalcade is expected to be a big factor in making this year's festival "the biggest and best yet."

T. W. Bryant is the Peach Festival Committee member in charge of the show with members of the local branch of the United Commercial Travelers handling the promotion and ticket selling both advance and at the gate.

Admission tickets for Thursday evening's show, to be held immediately following the queen crowning ceremonies in the Peach Bowl, will entitle the holders to attend the crowning festivities also.

Cost of admission for the evening shows will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children if the tickets are purchased at the gate. Advance tickets cost $1 for adults.

Master of ceremonies for the show and also contributing to the entertainment will be handsome Howard Hardin, of Washington State College. Howard's ready smile and wit should keep the show rolling in high gear throughout and his satirical impressions and comedy juggling, rated among the best in show business, will help to round out the evening's entertainment.

HIGH DIVE

Alone worth the price of admission to the entire show will be Jimmie Jamieson's act. Jimmie, widely noted for his daring stunts, will climb up to a platform 125 feet above ground level from where he will take a sensational dive into a tank filled with a flaming liquid.

A wide range of comedy, songs and music will be the contribution of Wilbur Hall and Renee, an exceptionally talented team. They use a variety of novelty instruments as well as trombones, trumpets and musical horns.

Al Hammond and Company, an act consisting of the old and very young members of a family troupe, will stage one of the most outstanding acrobatic and balancing acts there is. The difficult feats of balance spiced with top notch comedy will be sure to please and thrill all who see it.

Another real thriller will be the contribution of the Four Kings, trampoline and teeterboard artists who will stage two acts.

Also on the program will be the Cavanaghs, one of the great globe-trotting troupes in show business. Featured on shows in the Middle East, Philippines, Korea, Japan and Hawaiian Islands and recently returned from a tour of the British Isles, this group will stage a dangerous but thrilling knife-throwing act and an Australian whiplash act.

Ninth act on the program and one of the most unusual in show business today, will be presented by the Sensational Allens, 80 feet above ground level. Coming from Sweden five years ago, the Allens have appeared at every major fair in the United States and Canada.

Thursday evening's show will begin at 8:30 p.m. after the Queen Crowning ceremonies. Shows Friday and Saturday evenings will begin at 8:00 p.m. with the matinee performance Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Peach Festival Needs High Pressure Area For Festival Parade

The weather had better change in a hurry if it's going to improve for the Peach Festival.

Records from the Dominion weather station show that so far this month seven of eight days recorded have been wet ones. Only August 2 was free from rain.

Total to date is .54 inches precipitation. Last year for the whole month of August it was .69 inches. The year before that it was .04.

Weathermen say persistent cold air is the cause of the bad weather. A high pressure area would clear up the situation but none seem to be in sight, they say.

BRIDESVILLE

BRIDESVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Wally Winsor and sons, Larry and Darryl, are visiting at Big Valley, Alta. They were accompanied by Mrs. K. Turner of Big Valley, Mrs. Winsor's mother who spent several months visiting in B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Spooner were Vancouver visitors last weekend.

A basket social was held recently at the Sidley Hall in honor of Miss Bonnie Miller, who is Miss Bridesville in the forthcoming Rock Creek and Boundary District Fall Fair Queen contest. The P.T.A. are sponsoring the Bridesville entry. Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klenas and Mr. King of Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Grande have taken up residence in the former Syl. Gillen home. Mr. Grande is CPR agent at Westbridge. Mr. and Mrs. Gillen left from Penticton via plane for Regina. They will spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. R. Payant and her family, and also their son, Mr. Frank Gillen and his family, both of Assiniboia. Later they plan to visit Mr. John Gillen in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bereska of New Westminster were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Flexhaug. Ronnie Flexhaug returned to the coast with his aunt, Mrs. Helen Wood. Mrs. Flexhaug's mother, of Lloydminster is also a guest at the Flexhaug home.

B. C. More Friendly Says New Zealander

British Columbia has become a great deal friendlier in the past 20 years according to 82-year-old Charles B. Jones of Auckland, New Zealand, a former resident of the province who passed through Penticton during the weekend on his first visit to B.C. in two decades.

"I used to think that the Australians were the friendliest people in the world," Mr. Jones told the Herald. "Now they take second place to British Columbians. God bless 'em. I'm proud that I'm from British Columbia."

Mr. Jones recalls many colorful experiences from pioneer days of B.C. and the Yukon before the turn of the century. He also recalls being beaten up by the outlaw gang of Soapy Smith, notorious desperado of Skagway, Alaska, and showed scars above his right temple and behind his ear to prove it.

Born in South Dakota, he came to Victoria with his parents at the age of 5. He spent some time in the Yukon and Alaska around the time of the '88 gold rush and then left for New Zealand in 1921. He and his wife last returned for a visit in 1937.

Their present sojourn in the Pacific province will end Aug. 18 when they return to Auckland by air from Vancouver. Thus will end a holiday which began May 31 when Mr. and Mrs. Jones flew to Honolulu and thence to Los Angeles from where they proceeded by bus to Seattle and then took a boat to Victoria.

On their tour of the Island, Lower Mainland and Okanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Jones have visited relatives at Vernon, on the Island and near Kamloops. They also met a sister-in-law of Mr. Jones from Lethbridge at Penticton Friday morning.

Mr. Jones finds a startling contrast between the way of life in B.C. and that in New Zealand.

In the Antipodes country, he explained, butter sells for 30 cents a pound after a 50 per cent subsidy from the government which gives the farmer 45 cents a pound. Milk costs 12 cents a quart, rump steak sells for 35 cents a pound and hind leg of lamb, 40 cents a pound.

However, wages were nowhere near British Columbia levels either, Mr. Jones explains. Carpenters, for instance, receive 55 cents per hour and must pay seven and a half per cent of this towards social security with the employer not contributing anything.

Old age pensioners get $48 per month, a free house and free car and are allowed a bank account of up to $3,000.

Widows, regardless of age, receive $48 per month plus six dollars per month for each child up to 16 years of age.

Unemployed or sick persons subscribing to the unemployment insurance and compensation schemes receive two-thirds of their normal wages.

Widow and Children Receive $10,000 on $5,000 Policy

This young businessman's death came only a few months after he took out a Confederation Life Policy for $5,000, with an Accidental Death & Dismemberment clause. He chose this policy because of its low cost Double Indemnity guarantee in case of accidental death.

It was a wise choice because Confederation Life promptly paid his widow twice the face value of the policy.

A $5,000 policy with Confederation's Accidental Death and Dismemberment Benefit pays:

- Liberal cash payments for non-fatal dismemberment accidents and
- $5,000 if you die from natural causes.
- $10,000 if you die by accident.
- $15,000 if you die by accident while a passenger in a commercial bus, taxi, street car, train, ship or commercial aircraft, or in a fire in a public building.

TRACTOR RODEO GROWING FESTIVAL ATTRACTION

Four-H Club member Jim McConachie, son of an orchardist, certainly knows how to handle a tractor but he knows he will have to be right up on the

Hula Lessons Free At Hawaiian Show

A group of Hawaiian entertainers who have been the main attraction at a number of Western Canadian shows this summer will display their talents on the fair grounds of the 1957 Penticton Peach Festival. What's more it won't cost you a cent to see them perform.

And, if you happen to be lucky, you may even get free lessons on how to dance the hula. The lessons will be given to persons packed out of the crowd by the Hawaiian entertainers.

The entertainers—singers, dancers and musicians—are considered some of the most talented in Hawaii. They have appeared at world-famous Hawaiian hotels and on the popular "Hawaii Calls" program.

Many of them have toured Europe, Asia and the North American continent and are talented professional performers.

Superstition Doesn't Worry Queen-Elect

There is some solid superstition among brides about donning wedding dress before the marriage ceremony. Peach Festival Queen-Elect Carol in her regal robes worries whether the same superstition covers the coronation robes and symbols of the Peach Queen's office.

David Boyer, photographer for the National Geographic Magazine, has requested shots of Carol in her regal robes. He must take them before the coronation ceremony. "There's no superstition about this," she laughs.

"I don't think so," says Howard, chairman of the queen's coronation. "Giving full confidence to superstitions, I am confident that Carol will destroy the regular superstition of our royal party. I have seen 1956 and 1957 queens perform on stage and I am sure they could turn the most evil spirits into clouds of goodwill. I wouldn't be surprised if they even destroyed the weatherman's forecasts."

Some 30 boys, in the age range 11 to 14, are expected to take part, reports organizer Jim Campbell.

Participants will compete for a trophy and other prizes. They will be driving brand-new equipment borrowed from exhibition displays.

Among the special features of this year's show will be three non-competitive displays, one of outstanding photographs from all parts of the province, another of paintings exhibited by the local art club and another of stamp collections presented by the Penticton stamp club.

Model airplanes will be circling the Little League baseball park Saturday beginning at 1 p.m. A special prize, among others, will be awarded for the best exhibition of stunt flying.

Three Books Feature Politics, Jazz, Travel

A Canadian politician, jazz musician and travel in Mongolia are subjects of three non-fiction books recently received at the Penticton public library. Wade Avenue, announces librarian Mrs. Jessie Van der Burg.

"Land of the Blue Sky" by Ivor Montague is about a trip by the author and his wife into what used to be Outer Mongolia, now the Mongolian People's Republic. Few visitors from the West have been to this mysterious land, none in recent years. The book has many illustrations both in color and black and white.

"C. D. the Life and Times of Clarence Decatur Howe" by Leslie Roberts has timely appeal. The author traces C. D. Howe's career from the time he joined Mackenzie King's Liberal government in 1935 to the now famous "pipeline debate" during the last session of parliament. Here is contemporary history of the major political issues during the past 20 years.

"The Heart of Jazz" by William L. Grossman and Jack W. Farrell will prove informative to the student of contemporary music. The author refers to Bunk Johnson, Louis Armstrong, Turk Murphy and other present-day musicians as "great masters," saying that in these men are combined religious, humanistic, sentimental and neo-classical tendencies.

Among recent fiction titles, "Nightmare and Dawn" by Al-danov, is a tale based on a battle of wits between an American and a Russian chief of intelligence in Berlin during the Second World War. It is a story of espionage and intrigue revolving around the dominating personality, Schell, a giant of a man, who in looks and character, resembles an adventurer of the 18th Century, Count Saint Germaine.

"Abbie" by Dane Chandos, is a delightful story of a charming lady, who possesses almost all the money in the world.

"Letter from Peking" is Pearl Buck's latest book. It is a tender love story, full of suspense, which takes place in a world split by barriers of race, politics and misunderstanding. Set in present-day Vermont, the story includes

Dog Chasing Cat Poses Pipe Puzzle

FR. THOMAS, K.Y. (U.P.)—The question is, said, Bob Diemar, how did George get out of that bunch sewer pipe first?

George is Diemar's mostly beagle dog, which chased a cat down the sewer pipe. After several hours of trying to get him out by cajolery and with the aid of a garden hose, to no avail, police were called.

They set off a black powder shell that made a loud bang and a lot of smoke.

Sure enough, George came scurrying out the other end of the pipe—closely followed by the cat.

But Diemar figures there must have been some real scrambling when George and the cat changed places in the pipe.

Syria Demands U.S. Recall 3 Officials

DAMASCUS, Syria (UP)—On Tuesday Syria demanded the recall of three U.S. embassy officials on charges they were involved in an American "conspiracy" to overthrow the Syrian government. The foreign ministry declared the officials "persona non grata" and asked that they leave the country within 24 hours. The three accused Americans are Howard Stone of the embassy, Lt. Col. Robert Molloy, and Vice Consul Francis J. Jett. The demand for expulsion followed publication of an official government statement alleging an American plot against the Syrian government. The statement specifically alleged that Stone tried to entice Syrian army officers in to joining a coup against the regime.

A foreign ministry spokesman said the secretary general of Syria's Foreign Ministry, Salah Tarazi, handed the expulsion request to the U.S. Charge d'Affaires in Damascus, Robert Strong. The spokesman said Strong agreed to the Syrian request. The charges of a U.S. plot against the Syrian government were promptly denied here by U.S. embassy spokesman Robert Lincoln as "obviously a complete fabrication." "The American embassy can accept Syria's demand only under protest, since the allegations against the three gentlemen are fabrications," Lincoln said.

Armed Bandits Attack Mexican Ambassador

HAVANA, (UP)—Police are seeking five armed revolutionaries who broke into a country home where the Mexican ambassador and his family were guests, held them up, took every weapon in the place and escaped in the diplomat's official car.

Alternative Pipe Selected For Dam Culvert

Finding it impossible to obtain the spun concrete pipe for the new culvert in the Pentlition No. 1 dam, city council, on recommendation of its consulting engineer, D. K. Penfold, is installing a special steel-reinforced concrete pipe.

After communication with the coast last weekend, the city ordered the 30-inch spun pipe. Later the firm manufacturing the spun pipe said they did not know whether they could supply it, and even if they did, there would be considerable delay.

Mayor C. E. Oliver reported to council Monday there should be no hold-up in the work, and the alternate type of pipe was selected after Mr. Penfold had seen it. Each length of this pipe would be shorter, calling for more joints, but at the same time easing the transportation problem. Total weight of the pipe will be 40 tons.

Ample provision of cut-off collars, preventing any seepage following the pipe will be allowed Mr. Penfold has informed the water rights engineers. As the new culvert will be set in virgin ground rather than in part of the fill, likelihood of a wash-out is considered extremely remote if not impossible.

At the council meeting there was a further report on the condition of the dam. Test pipes placed in the dam indicated a greater amount of seepage at the wings than in the usually more vulnerable center. Mayor Oliver stated, further particulars about the material forming the dam will be known after the cut has been made for the new culvert. From this data the government engineers as well as the city can obtain definite ideas of the future security of the dam.

Mayor Oliver and the engineers made another inspection trip to the dam yesterday.

AROUND B.C. LAKES, STREAMS

Campsites Opened For Visiting Anglers

August, the last month before the "back to school bell rings" in many parts of the country, is seeing an ever-increasing amount of Canadians and Americans answering the lure of British Columbia's famous mountains, forests, lake and streams.

To many it is an invitation to an outdoor adventure — a camping vacation — and it has opened up a new life to many who heretofore could not afford the expense of a holiday. British Columbia is most fortunate in having an abundance of lakes and streams with more than adequate timber and vegetation to meet the needs of even the most ardent "back to Nature" enthusiasts.

The British Columbia government has been ready to meet this new trend and hundreds of free campsites have been established, not only nearly enough to cope with the demands of countless thousands. Already a re-camping is taking place, and large areas to accommodate five to six hundred at a time are to be established. According to authentic figures arrived at by a careful census, over 80 per cent of those using the present campsites are Canadians. Not only Americans, but also Canadians, are now "camping conscious".

Asanola Creek, near Keremeos, still producing limit catches of trout eight to 13 inches. An excellent spot to take the whole family on a camping-fishing trip.

Copper lake, near Westbank, excellent catches, up to three pounds. Necessary to pack-in.

Conkle lake, fair to good. Fish rather small. Excellent campsite or picnic spot.

Sugar lake, 42 miles northeast of Vernon, only fair, but improving.

Postill lake, fair. South lake, adjoining Postill, is only a 15-minute hike. Trout up to three pounds on a silver or copper Dick Nite.

Shannon lake, two miles from Westbank ferry, excellent bass and perch.

GOOD FISHING

Bear lake, 20 miles west of Kelowna, excellent trout up to 3½ pounds. Mrs. Grace Mueller, Palm Springs, Calif., reported that the Rainbows were plump and firm, and fishing conditions good. Mr. and Mrs. Mueller operate Green Gables Hotel at Palm Springs, and spoke highly of Bear lake as an enjoyable vacation spot as well as excellent fishing.

Okanagan lake, slow to poor. Beaver lake, excellent when calm. Limit catches up to 17 inches. Ties, George Horton, Yakima, Wash., reported good fishing.

Kamloops lake, west end, good, up to five pounds. Silver Catfish best.

Panatin, excellent on both fly and troll.

Bolean, good, silver flatfish best but some good brown and white. Green, brown and grey sedge, and Grizzly King accounted for good catches on both fly and troll. Changeable weather conditions, hot weather should improve fishing. One to two pounds.

Arthur, fly fishing best. Three to four pounds. Green sedge and Grizzly King. Good Incidentally, "hats off" to Mr. and Mrs. Jurgens, who have proved themselves to be "good joes!" Their Boy Scout deeds included putting out a grass fire caused by a careless smoker who apparently flipped his cigarette out the car window, helping an orchardist repair his broken irrigation pump, and assisting the RCMP in the hunt for a lost fisherman. We heartily welcome such visitors, and hope to see them again soon!

Actress Gives New Tips on Old Issue

NEW YORK, (UP) — Actress Angela Lansbury has a new approach to the old argument of show business career versus marriage. She believes women can have both successfully, but men cannot.

A man must devote most of his time to the theater if he wants to make a living in it, she told the United Press. On the other hand, she said, a woman can work when she wants, and devote the rest of her time to her family. And, the actress added, a career is just one phase of a woman's varied interests.

She and her husband, handsome Peter Shaw, have worked out the career problem satisfactorily. He became an agent in Hollywood after a brief try at the stage. "This thing gave him up," she explained.

The charming London-born actress is making her first appearance on Broadway in the comedy "Hotel Paradiso," with Bert Lahr. She has a string of movies to her credit, and now hopes to do more stage work.

In spite of her life-long devotion to the theater, Angela says her family comes first. She believes a successful career cannot compare with happiness at home with her husband and three children.

"I'm really the domestic type," she added.

PLASTIC CONTAINERS WIN MORE USERS

AMERICAN PLASTIC CONTAINERS are taking over home popularity lists, says N. C. Smith, home manager, resident at Iowa State College. The main reason for their popularity, he said, is because they don't break. "I can't say enough about plastics," he said. "They keep clean, easy to use, and they don't break."

JUICY STEAKS

Juicy Steaks Are Delicious Broiled Indoors or Out

With the "do-it-yourself" technique so firmly established in most homes, more and more men are taking to the kitchen to prepare their own favorite foods. If the man in your house is slow to fall in step, it might be a good idea to encourage him to prepare simple, down-to-earth dishes. Probably nothing fits this description better than broiled steaks garnished with onion rings and scallion tomato slices. If the man in your house prefers the freedom of the great outdoors, so much the better, the steaks may be charcoal broiled over an outdoor barbecue. But broiled indoors or not, there's no better companion for a tender, juicy steak than slices of French bread, piping hot hamburger buns or toast. The open-face French steak sandwiches are sure to delight the teenage crowd. The steak is given a most effective dressing of mustard and simple seasoning for added appetite appeal. If preferred, cube steaks could replace the steaks called for in this recipe.

Split heated loaf lengthwise and spread with soft butter or margarine. Arrange sliced tomatoes and onion rings over one half of the loaf and the cooked steaks over the other half.

OPEN FACE FRENCH STEAK SANDWICHES

Yield — 5 or 6 servings
1 1/2 pounds beef steak, cut about 3/4-inch thick
Bottled prepared mustard
Salt
Pepper
Monosodium glutamate, optional
1 loaf French bread (or heat 3 or 6 hamburger buns or use hot toast)
Soft butter or margarine
Sliced tomatoes
Onion rings
Trim steak and cut into pieces. Spread each side of steak with a little prepared mustard and

MINT AND LAMB

NEW YORK, (UP) — Mint-flavored lamb chops make one tasty basis for an outdoor meal. To make, first marinate the chops in this mixture: Combine 1 part vinegar with 3 parts salad oil, and season with minced onion and finely chopped sprigs of fresh mint. Add a little salt and paprika. After the chops have stood in the mixture for several hours, or overnight, grill them over hot coals.

GETTING SET TO PROMENADE AND TURN

Peach City Promenaders and a host of willing volunteers have King's Park ready and trim to host the Fifth Annual Square Dance Jamboree. Preparations for the Festival Highlight occupied many hours during the past few months "but it's worth it for the finest Square Dance Jamboree in the West," say the men and women doing the bulk of the work. The giant plywood floor is now completed.

Square Dancers Swing, Sway Pentiction Way

"Swing and Sway, Pentiction Way," is a slogan square dancers throughout the Pacific Northwest, British Columbia and Western Canada as far east as Winnipeg have been hearing and seeing since early in the New Year.

The slogan, carried some 10,000 miles by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hendry and daughter Linn, Pentiction's goodwill ambassadors in their poster-bedecked station wagon, is a cordial invitation to come to the big Fourth Annual Square Dance Jamboree, at the Pentiction Peach Festival.

The time for this shindig—the square dancers come from as far away as California and Winnipeg—has arrived. By the time the warm-up dance is held at King's Park tomorrow night it is expected that some 1,600 to 2,000 square dancers will be here from all parts of B.C. and the State of Washington and also from communities in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Oregon, Idaho and California.

Dave Craig, chairman of registrations on the Jamboree Committee, reports that among the clubs represented will be the Ugo Igo Square Dance Club of Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta which is sending a caravan of 15 cars carrying 60 people, and the Whirlygigs of Vancouver whose 23 teenage members are also to be represented. Two couples from Cali-

KING'S PARK

All Festival Jamboree events will be held at King's Park where volunteer crews began laying a plywood floor Saturday morning.

But the square dancers haven't had to restrain their exuberance that long. The visitors joined with the Peach City Promenaders, the local club, at its regular Saturday night dance at the Gyo Park bandshell.

In addition there are street dances every day of the week. These began Monday morning and are continuing through the week from 9:45 a.m. to noon at the Post Office corner on Main Street. A street dance was also held Monday evening and at Summerland last night.

Tonight the Peach City Promenaders are hosts to the visitors at another pre-jamboree get-together this time at King's Park.

The warm-up dance of the Jamboree will get underway at King's Park tomorrow at 9 p.m. following the Queen Crowning ceremonies at the Peach Bowl.

The Square Dance Jamboree continues Friday and Saturday nights on the King's Park floor beginning at 8 o'clock featuring grand marches and some 50 guest callers. For extra good measure there will also be a "Jam Dance" Saturday afternoon.

WARM-UP DANCE

Tomorrow night's warm-up dance will be to recorded music but Friday and Saturday nights the music will be supplied by Roy Christianson and his boys from Vancouver. This jovial four-piece aggregation comprising accordion, violin, electric guitar and drums is well-known in the Vancouver music field.

Master of Ceremonies will be Les Boyer of Okanagan, Wash., famous among square dancers throughout the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia.

Guest callers include Howard Dudley of La Jolla, California, and 15-year-old Caren Cunningham of Vancouver, three-time winner and twice grand champion of the Pacific Northwest Teen Town Square Dance Festival calling competitions.

A special feature of the jamboree will be the hitching post. This will be a specially marked corner of the floor for benefit of folks who come to the Festival without a partner. They can hustle over to the hitching post and get a red ribbon to wear advising others they're available for a dance and looking for a partner.

The whole affair, one of the biggest drawing cards for the Peach Festival, has entailed a great deal of effort by a lot of people.

Ralph Robinson and Maurice Finnerty are co-chairmen of the Jamboree on behalf of the Peach Festival Association with Les Gibb also on the committee. Remainder of the committee is made up of executive and members of the Peach City Promenaders.

These include Dennis Gore, president in charge of program; Dave Craig, registrations; Percy Coulter, street dancing; Bob McMorland, accommodations; Ruby and Warren Williams, the hitching post; and Tom Elliott, floor preparation.

Local callers participating in the events will include Percy Coulter, Glen Ashcroft, Jimmie Jenkins, Elsie Barrett and Bob McMorland.

Crowning Ceremony Highlight for Carol

When the Peach Festival crown is placed on the head of tall, 20-year-old Carol Malmberg Thursday evening in the Peach Bowl it will be the most thrilling moment of her life.

Five weeks of visiting nearby centres, participating in parades, being taken on tours, being photographed from all angles, all this will have been only an exciting prelude to the moment when the blue-eyed and strikingly beautiful young girl will begin her reign over the 1957 Peach Festival.

She will be handed the glittering sceptre, the regal robe will be placed over her shoulders and finally the crown will be placed on her blond head by last year's queen, Miss Maureen Gibson.

Then she will be Queen Vallette X Queen of the Festival. Carol reports that she has been keeping a scrapbook putting into it clippings and photographs from the time she was chosen to be the year's queen. She says the book is already full, except for a few

Proposes Inland Waterway From Middle East to Atlantic

By J. RICHARD TOREN
United Press Staff Correspondent
OAK HILL, W. Va., (UP) — An inland waterway connecting the Mississippi-Ohio basin with the Atlantic seaboard is the dream of a newspaper editor who claims it is not only possible but would be of great economic benefit.

The so-called "Midland Canal" connecting the Kanawha and James Rivers would require a tunnel more than 100 miles long from Deepwater, W. Va., to near Lynchburg, Va. Editor Monroe Worthington of the weekly Fayette Tribune here estimates that it would cost $6,600,000 a mile to build.

"But the whole enterprise would pay for itself in 10 years from tolls," he said. "It would carry 10 times as much traffic as any double-track railroad. And it would never wear out."

Worthington admits that "at first glance, the suggestion seems fantastic and even insane." But he is a man who won seven awards in the West Virginia Press Assn's (1956) better-news-paper contest and second place in the National Editorial Assn. contest.

He said George Washington originated the plan to connect the James River with the Ohio-Mississippi basin — at a time when there were no drills, dozers, dynamite, power shovels or trucks.

"The canal had gone into service as far as Buchanan, Va., and was paying good dividends when the Civil War broke out," he said. "And a group of eminent French engineers and financiers had signed a contract with the State of Virginia to complete the canal to the Kanawha River — a tributary of the Ohio — when the war prevented them from proceeding."

Rather than an overland route with many locks, Worthington said the project is now feasible by tunneling under the Appalachian Mts. from Deepwater to Lynchburg, both about 615 feet above sea level.

"If the tunnel is 125 feet wide, and has an arched top with an average height of 54 feet, or 42 feet above the 12-foot water level, it would require moving 1,320,000 cubic yards per mile, or $6,600,000 a mile at a cost of $5 per yard," he calculated.

Based on present water transportation in the area that would be served by the canal, he estimated it would carry at least 300 million tons of freight a year and if a toll of $1 a ton were put on this, it should pay for the whole cost in four or five years.

"Even if the tonnage were only half as high, it should pay for itself in 10 years," he declared. "This is one time the taxpayers would be getting a break."

Worthington denied that canal transportation is obsolete and cited these figures: "Today's barges carry from 1,000 tons upward each, and enough of them are tied together to carry 20,000 to 25,000 tons at one time. This is equal to four 100-car trains."

"Freight on the nation's rivers increased 10 times from 1929 to 1955. Practically every new heavy industry or factory is located along our navigable streams. That's the reason for the present-day boom along the Ohio," he said.

Worthington claimed that the canal would be competitive in speed with railroads and that shippers "could easily save money after paying $1 per ton for using the Midland Canal."

He has answers for other objections, too, such as the problem of ventilating a 100-mile long tunnel.

"The same shafts or slopes that are used to reach down to the 615-foot level at half a dozen points along the course — so that construction can start simultaneously — will serve as natural chimneys, creating more than ample draft.

"Some high storage dams on the headwaters of the Greenbrier River can store enough water to assure a steady flow, even in draught periods," he said, adding that the project also has possibilities for creating cheap hydro-electric power.

Worthington foresees tremendous economic advantages accruing from the canal:

"Sixteen states east of the Appalachians, plus Wisconsin and Michigan via the Chicago Canal to the Great Lakes, would benefit directly by all-water inland transport to the rich Atlantic Coast markets, at the very beginning.

"Lower freight rates on grain would mean higher prices to farmers — saving billions of dollars in farm price support subsidies and possibly saving housewives one cent a loaf on bread.

"It would carry western lumber lowering the cost of an average house by perhaps $200 or more. It would carry millions of gallons of gasoline and oil, and bring the cost of gasoline down several cents a gallon.

"It would carry coal for the needy countries of Europe and, by lowering the delivered price and increasing the market, would put 20,000 or more idle miners back to work. It would carry inbound iron ore and limestone and assure Pittsburgh's dominance of the steel industry for another century.

"The prosperity resulting from the canal would ultimately mean more business for every railroad in the affected area."

"The Midland Canal is the answer to the nation's inevitable needs if we are to keep growing," he says. "It is the submarine-proof canal across the continent. And best of all, it's an economical plan that will mean dollars-and-cents savings to each harassed taxpayer."

"It's coming, sooner or later, because of the inevitable logic of destiny," he declared. "And I'd like to see it come during my lifetime."

CAMEO CAMERA CLICKS

If cajolery or bribes don't work when photographing children, try a little psychology. In the first place, go about setting up your shots simply and casually. A normal child's interest is a mercurial thing, so don't fuss around petulantly looking for hairline lighting perfection and perfect posing. Have a good idea of what you want in a picture beforehand and snap it without boring the child's attention to every little detail.

Generally speaking, the small fry are willing models, although it is a good idea to cultivate their interest by asking their help in taking pictures. This can often be done by suggesting that they help set up pictures by showing off a pet or a favorite toy.

Although this approach works well for pictures of the snapshot variety, your best bet for portraits is to call on the services of a studio with experience and equipment to turn out work which will "live" for many years to come. CAMEO PHOTO SUPPLIES, 464 Main St., is noted for high standards of photographic excellence in portrait work, wedding or group pictures and passport photos. Phone 2616.

For Tourists Only, Free Orange Juice

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., (UP) — The Florida Development Commission gave away over eight thousand gallons of orange juice to thousands of tourists during the first half of this year. The commission operates six "welcome stations" on primary highways entering the state where tourists can get a glass of orange juice and travel information about the state.

The manager of the stations said it takes a gallon of juice to quench the thirst of 20 tourists. "Visitors registered at the stations during the period totaled 177,379."

Won in High Court, Back Behind Bars

HOUSTON, Tex., (UP) — Emmitt O'Neal Massey, an ex-convict who personally appealed his case to the U.S. Supreme Court, is behind bars again.

The jailhouse lawyer is serving a five-month sentence for drunk driving in the Harris County jail. Massey, 44, gained national attention in 1954, when, after a series of hand-written writs, he got the Supreme Court to consider his life sentence to the Texas Penitentiary.

Then Secretary of State Dean Acheson presented the case and the high court reversed Massey's 1941 conviction as an habitual criminal.

He had been convicted of a robbery during a prison escape and the court found that Massey had appeared without counsel and only a few days later was confined in a strait jacket in the prison.

A federal court in Houston ruled that Massey was insane at the time of his 1941 trial. He was never tried again and was released from jail in 1955.

Fireman For 75 Years Stays on Job

MARLBORO, Mass., (UP) — Herbert S. Bartlett was 89 years old recently but he planned to go right on handling his duties as a fire captain.

Bartlett began fighting fires as a lad of 15 in 1883. Ten years later he was officially appointed to the local fire department giving him a total of almost 75 years as fireman.

A widower, Bartlett said he would remain with the department until he died or until he was unable to do his duties efficiently.

Take a second look . . . get the true picture

There's nothing new about a schoolboy dashing out at the last minute. But that big yellow bus is something new . . . something important to you even though you'll never use it. For this is a district high school bus picking up its morning load of farm children.

Not so long ago, the "little red school house" was the end of education for the majority of these children. Now they ride the yellow bus to high school—and may go on to an agricultural college afterwards.

Parents are encouraging their children to get more education so that when they have taken over the farm they'll have a thorough knowledge of agricultural sciences and business management, both so necessary to the production of good and plentiful crops, on a profitable basis.

The prosperity we all enjoy would be impossible if today's farm boys weren't doing such a fine job. But those bright, eager children on the yellow bus, tomorrow's farmers, will make an even greater contribution to this country's progress. They'll be able to do this because they will be trained in newer and better farm machinery, including the use of farm machinery which will be "revolutionary" even by today's high standards.

LIGHTING BIG FESTIVAL JOB

Changing night into day along the highway is the job of electrician Sandy Third, shown on one of the temporary power poles strung out across the festival midway. No, Sandy isn't juggling light bulbs—he is catching one thrown up to him by fellow worker Ron Clark as scores of workmen on the grounds and through the arena put together Penticton's biggest festival in its ten year history.

Accuses West Of Blocking Disarmament

BERLIN (UP) — Soviet Communist leader Nikita S. Khrushchev accused the western powers Tuesday of blocking agreement at the London disarmament conference. He said the Soviet bloc must strengthen its armed forces to face "threats" from the west. Khrushchev told a carefully mobilized rally of East Germans on the eve of his return to Moscow that they can not expect liberation from the Communist regime's unity with the west.

A Moscow radio broadcast heard in London quoted a joint Soviet-East German statement as saying leaders of the two states have noted an easing of international tension in the past few months. But the statement went on to blast the west for "avoiding any concrete decisions" on disarmament.

The statement also accused West Germany of letting NATO build a base "for an atomic war in Europe." It warned West Germany anew that it would be open to "concentrated blows of modern nuclear weapons."

Asks Extension Of Breakwater

A direct appeal will be made by the city to the Hon. Howard Green, federal Minister of Public Works, to have the breakwater at the Esplanade beach extended.

Ex-Alderman J. D. Southworth appealed to council to support this move. In his letter the former ex-council member stressed the need for the extension and suggested council backing for the idea. Mr. Southworth is a former Conservative candidate for Similkameen provincial riding.

Council members recalled that F. C. Christian, MP for Okanagan-Boundary, had asked for similar support. It was agreed that council will write independently to the minister on its own behalf.

Strike Against CPR Operations In B.C. Cancelled

VANCOUVER (UP) — A threatened strike of firemen and engineers against Canadian Pacific Railway was called off Tuesday when an agreement was reached at negotiations in Montreal.

The International Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers had set the strike against the British Columbia operations for Thursday. It issued the walkout threat last month after a dispute over seniority at Revelstoke. The Brotherhood claimed the company was relegating senior men to the work of junior employees.

The settlement, details of which were not released, was reached in Montreal at talks between company officials and John Graham, the union's general chairman.

ROTARIANS COMPLETE FENCING PROJECT

There's a lot of volunteer labor in staging the Rotary exhibition and the club's work crews have been busy these past few days. The Herald's camera, above, came across Everett

Clark getting in some finishing touches with the pieces on a fence erecting project. From left, Hank Laub, behind him, with the hammer, and right, then Bert Coughlin, C.P.R. distributed. In the background are Joe Vass, chairman of the Rotary project this year, and Neil Elder and W. Bryant, chairman of former years. Off to the right is Dick Potomac.

Pumping Operation Fails To Locate Sunken Plane

TESSODUN, Que. (CP) — A tedious, day-long pumping operation was called off last night after army engineers dug 55 feet into a muddy crater and still failed to find the fuselage of the wrecked DC-4 airliner in which bodies of many of the 79 victims were believed buried.

Bulldozers will be brought in today to resume the digging. They will try to burrow down another 10 feet.

Coroner Jean-Paul Pouliot of L'Assomption County said the main body of the Maritime Central Airways plane was still believed to be further down in the crater. It exploded and exploded Sunday at Tessodun.

"Bodies are still being brought out," Pouliot said, "but it is impossible to tell how many because they are beyond recognition — probably only about 20."

J. O. Noury, district supervisor of airworthiness for the department of transport, said that enough water had been drained off to reveal "some metal parts" in the pit. But he said it would "probably be necessary to bring in a bulldozer to try to dam off the immediate crash area to keep the water from seeping back faster than we can pump it out."

Noury also announced that FBI and Maritime Central Airways investigators had joined forces in their inquiry into the crash.

Pouliot said that many of the victims were buried in the passenger compartment of the plane. They would probably be the only intact bodies left after the explosion which occurred on impact and sprayed wreckage over an area of two acres in the swamp and nearby woods.

Boxes containing the first recovered remains started leaving for Quebec City tonight. Boxes to the northeast, at 10 p.m.

Monday night. Altogether, the remains of 10 to 12 bodies had been found, Pouliot said.

FIRST FOUND
The only one identified was that of the pilot, Capt. Norman Hamann, who was recognized by his uniform and a ring.

Possible cause of the crash has been narrowed down. The two theories given most credence by investigators were:

1. Some form of "pilot fatigue" resulting from the long and tiring transatlantic flight via Vassal, a spokesman for the Airline Pilots' Association (ALPA) said. "Fatigue probably has been the indirect cause of more accidents than anyone likes to admit. After a long over-water flight, cockpit fatigue can lead to slow reactions, faulty judgment and a lot of other things that could mean an accident."

2. Turbulence resulting from a strong electrical storm which hit the area around 2 p.m. Sunday just before the plane crashed.

Capt. Edward Blain, international operations manager for MCA, said in Montreal that it was "possible for severe turbulence" in a thunderstorm to "twist a plane out of control." He said that aspect was being thoroughly checked.

There was speculation that due to fatigue, the pilot had made an error in switching fuel tanks and switched into empty tanks by mistake or failed to switch at all.

These reports Blain dismissed. He said that under normal procedure on such a flight, no switch would have been necessary at the spot where the plane went down.

PUBLIC INQUIRY
A public inquiry will soon assume the task of attempting to determine the cause of the disaster. It was learned in Ottawa that transport Minister George Hees, who is on his way back from western Canada, will chair the

Pound Keeper Asks Vote of Confidence

"I'm no longer of any value to the City of Penticton unless I can get a vote of confidence in my work," Poundkeeper T. Swann told city council Monday night. Subsequent to hearing his plaint, council not only gave him the confidence vote, but will assist him in other ways.

Producing a clipping from a coast paper, Mr. Swann said the article found fault with his method of destroying unwanted rats.

and intimated he was a cruel person. He said that neither the city, nor the SPCA had profited by his work. He said he would not destroy the cats, which, if not destroyed, would either starve or become a nuisance or both.

Asked regarding his method, Mr. Swann said he had contrived a special box to which he affixed a pipe from the tail of his car exhaust. This is so arranged, he stated, that cats get a large amount of fresh air together with the fumes, thus only the monoxide is active.

Mayor C. E. Oliver agreed with the poundkeeper regarding the method being humane. Mr. Swann said he had informed the SPCA he would gladly use any other method they recommended if they would furnish him with the means to apply it.

Ald. H. M. Geddes suggested council should not only support the poundkeeper in his work, but also endeavor to find other means should they exist, and make provision for them. This was endorsed unanimously.

Special Parking Arrangements For Regatta

Special parking arrangements on South Beach Drive for the annual Penticton Aquatic Club Regatta on August 26 were approved by city council Monday night.

The council also agreed to purchase a welcome advertisement to the regatta program and to donate $50 toward its finances.

Under the parking plan the old portion of South Beach Drive existing along the lakeshore will be shut off, and traffic shunted through the new cut-off portion of the drive will arrange their own parking for this portion.

Sept. 1, R. Gayer said the main idea is to prevent cars from passing through the area. The parking provision is incidental. He said there are plans to provide a parking zone near the aquatic club area, but they have so far not been carried out.
